

Today in the Quad-Cities

Area in barge movie tonight

"The Runaway Barge," a made-for-television 90-minute movie filmed here, will be shown on Channel 5 tonight at 7 o'clock.

The movie is a pilot film for a proposed television action series to be called "Rivermen," portraying present day life on the rivers.

"The Runaway Barge" was filmed in December on the Mississippi River between here and Grafton. It was produced by Lorimar Productions, Inc., Burbank, Calif., producers of "The Waltons."

The plot revolves around two deckhands, Danny Worth and Earl Owens, and follows their adventures while working on a towboat.

Action in the film includes an encounter with sugar hijackers and a chlorine barge breakaway that ends successfully when the towboat River King halts the runaway barge as it approaches Lock and Dam 26 at Alton.

Several area river people have bit parts in the film. The towboat River King was loaned by Federal Barge Lines, St. Louis, for the film. Its name was changed from Herman Pott for the film.

Governor attracts local gathering

Gov. Daniel Walker had a brief but busy stay in the Quad-City area Friday, reviewing the state Class A basketball championship team, the Venice Red Devils, at Venice High School.

Walker arrived on time at 10 a.m. Friday at the Madison Post Office and made a brief statement on the new food stamp distribution program.

"We are beginning a major new program to help those people in need," he asserted before a gathering of local citizens in the post office lobby.

"The purchase of food stamps has become a necessity for thousands of people, first as a result of a skyrocketing inflation and now as a result of a deepening recession."

"What worked several years ago, no longer works and the state is responding."

"Until now, food stamps were available at the one public aid office in Madison County, at Alton."

"The Department of Public Aid has worked out an agreement with postal officials and food stamps will be available at 10 post offices in Madison County — in the main post office in Granite City, at the Nameki station, here in Madison, in the Alton main post office, Collinsville, Highland, Edwardsville, Wood River, Berthall and the upper Alton station."

"We estimate that 18,000 people in Madison County alone are eligible."

"The same kind of program is being worked out throughout Downstate so that a total of 50 post offices will be distributing food stamps by June," the governor related.

"The new program will cut the travel time and cost for thousands of people."

In addition, people will be obtaining food stamps with almost the same ease as buying

Wharf area sale covers 9-acre site

A four-acre riverfront site and a triangular five-acre inland tract are to be sold to the Tri-City Regional Port District under a plan authorized Thursday by the Bi-State Development Agency board.

Operated here by Bi-State since 1954, the wharf and shipping terminal includes a dock at the Chain of Rocks Canal harbor, warehouse facilities, roads, railroad tracks, storage areas and cranes and other cargo-handling equipment.

The $730,000 sales price is to be paid by the Port District over a ten-year period.

Under a ten-year memorandum of agreement, the district will recognize the Bi-State Agency as regional coordinator of port planning. The river terminal sale avoids a potential Bi-State Agency lawsuit as both a port operator and a planning body for the half-dozen St. Louis metropolitan area ports.

Agreement by Tri-City Port officials to a ten-year period for the coordinating and promotion program Thursday led to a unanimous vote by Bi-State commissioners authorizing the sale. A span of three to five years had been discussed earlier.

Still pending is an East-West Gateway Coordinating Council resolution outlining the basis for individual coordinating pacts between Bi-State and various port authorities.

Tri-City Port representatives consented Thursday to designate Bi-State as the primary recipient of local river terminal operating profits to meet the scheduled wharf payments.

Another condition agreed to calls for Bi-State auditors to have access to the records of such revenue-producing operations.

The nine acres of property involved in the transfer are situated in the southern half of the widened canal section that serves the local harbor. Tri-City Port occupies the northern half of the harbor with docks and liquid and bulk commodity storage structures.

The harbor is situated immediately north of the Granite City locks, which form the southern end of the eight-mile Chain of Rocks Canal built during the late 1940s.

The canal serves as the main channel of the Mississippi River between here and the Alton lake area.

Port officials believe consolidation of the entire harbor into a single jurisdiction can lead to expanded barge-rail-truck shipping, storage and processing activity in the Quad-Cities, bolstering regional economic cooperation.

Robert J. Baer, Bi-State executive director since September, described the action as "the culmination of a lot of hard work." Negotiations had been conducted over a period of many months.

In other business Thursday, the Bi-State board approved a five-year $116 million bus system improvement program.

St. John Lutheran scene of Jones-Azari wedding

The wedding of Miss Sharon Diane Azari, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Azari Jr., 3021 Edgewood Ave., and Steven Carroll Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll D. Jones, 1641 Rodgers Ave., Alton, was solemnized on March 15 at St. John Lutheran Church.

Bouquets of yellow mums and orange pom poms and burning orange tapers in candelabra decorated the altar. White satin bows accented the aisle standards, completing the setting for the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Samuel Boda.

Organist Mrs. Phyllis Jarabak accompanied Mrs. Carol Potter, who sang "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Azari escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She was gown in a white maracaine jersey dress, ornately accented with pearl beading.

The pearl beading created a V-bib effect on the Empire bodice, defined the stand-up collar and encircled the high rise waistline. Her long A-line skirt swept into a chapel train.

She wore a lovely length veil of bridal illusion secured to a headpiece of pearl beaded jewelry. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow pom poms, orange roses and orange baby's breath.

Mrs. Barbara J. Lowery, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant.

She chose a long gown of California print in yellow and orange hues. The Empire style dress featured a scoop neckline, full sleeves to the wrist and a gathered skirt.

Her colonial bouquet consisted of orange roses, yellow pom poms, daisies, gold chrysanthemums and orange baby's breath.

"You're Somebody Special With us!"

Steel industry urges a fresh look at air quality efforts

"Congress should take a fresh look at present air quality control laws in terms of their impact on inflation, unemployment and energy conservation."

This proposal was made on behalf of the steel industry by Frederick G. Jaicks, chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute, in testimony last week before the Public Health and Environment Subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee. Jaicks is also chairman of Inland Steel Co.

He emphasized that his suggestion did not imply sacrificing the need to control the environment, but only that Congress "attempt to place this need in proper perspective with other major national concerns."

The AISI chairman said that during the years 1970 to 1974, his industry spent or committed nearly $1.2 billion to meeting requirements of the Clean Air Act.

He said the nation's steelmakers have made significant progress toward controlling air pollution in their industry. And he pledged they would continue this effort until all steel industry sources which have a significant adverse impact on air quality are controlled or eliminated. Jaicks made the following proposals for moving toward what he termed "a balanced approach in the best interests of the nation":

1. A requirement that the Environmental Protection administrator review and

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

revise ambient air standards, and that the revised standards be reviewed by an Environmental Review Board.

Jaicks expressed concern about "the propriety" of existing ambient air quality standards. He noted that although the National Academy of Sciences recently decided there was no basis for changing existing standards, the finding was based largely on the stated conclusion that existing data was inadequate.

It also was recognized that an "accidental safety factor" of two may have been built into the particulate standard.

2. A requirement that states eliminate fugitive emission controls from their implementation plans. Jaicks said some standards aimed at controlling such "cosmetic problems" would actually result in more pollution at the power plant than would be collected at the fugitive emission source.

3. Any control technology which is installed should be considered in compliance with the law for at least 10 years, and control agencies should be given authority to commit specific technology in unproven areas.

4. The law should be amended to make clear that enforcement authority resides in the states, and that federal enforcement can occur only when the state requests it, or after a hearing in which it is determined that state enforcement efforts are inadequate.

Once effective, federal enforcement should be exclusive; Jaicks called simultaneous state, local and federal enforcement "counterproductive."

5. Since it is clear that air quality objectives will not be attained by mid-1975, Congress should extend the attainment date by several years, he said.

Jaicks stressed that requirements of no significant deterioration in air quality in certain areas might hamper the current effort to expand the nation's steelmaking capability by 30 million tons by 1980.

He also said that many requirements of the Clean Air Act "ignore the nation's critical energy shortage."

He urged that the entire concept of air pollution control be re-examined in the light of present energy problems so that America will be in a position to establish a sound national policy.

Illinois Bell stressing service, modernization, 911 emergency number

Illinois Bell Telephone Company topped the $2 billion mark in construction expenditures in the first half of the 1976 decade and currently is budgeting another $400 million for construction this year to extend and improve its service facilities.

These figures were revealed by President James E. Olson in the company's annual report released here Friday. The Illinois firm has acquired the local district from Southwestern Bell.

"The need for such large budgets will continue," Olson said, "not only because of inflation, but because demand for communications service isn't likely to abate over the long pull."

Olson termed 1974 "another year of massive construction expenditures to extend, modernize and maintain our facilities. It was a year in which we provided more communications service to more families and businesses than ever before."

"By many measurements, it was better than when the year began," he said. "For example, a higher percentage of our customers got immediate dial tone."

"More calls went through the first time dialed. And we did better on installing service to meet the customer's schedule."

Earnings improved during 1974, but persistent inflation has already reversed that earnings trend, Olson said. "We're again losing ground in our struggle to balance revenues with sharply rising costs."

He termed "a severe disappointment" and rejection of the company's Cost and Efficiency Adjustment Plan by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

by continued inflation and said, "Our expenses are now growing twice as fast as our revenues."

"We are earning less than the commission authorized 14 months ago, and there is no relief in sight from the escalation in our operating costs," he cited these as reasons for a requested general rate increase.

Olson expressed concern about the challenge to the integrated structure of the Bell System in a Justice Department antitrust suit against American Telephone and Telegraph.

"Pending the outcome," he said, "our role is clear."

"We will continue working with our Bell partners—Western Electric, Bell Laboratories, AT&T Long Lines and the other operating companies—to provide our customers the best telecommunications service at the lowest possible cost."

Demand for service was reduced in 1974, Illinois Bell gained 265,746 telephones during the year, six per cent below the 1973 gain.

"A better indication of the slowdown is in the increase in main telephones—only 54,566 in 1974," Olson said. "This growth ran 30 per cent below the average of the previous five years and 31 per cent behind the pace of 1973."

"Thousands of Illinois Bell people worked to counter this economic impact with two successful efforts: stringent budget administration and vigorous sales campaigns. These were our strongest accomplishments during the year."

The annual report also said the company handled 36.3 million calls on the average weekday—two million a day more than in 1973.

But the daily calling rate per phone slowed perceptibly during the last year. So did long distance calling, which grew by 7.5 per cent during 1974 compared with 10.2 per cent growth a year earlier.

Altogether, Illinois Bell handled 11.5 billion calls during 1974.

The report noted that, aside from providing for growth, the company gave emphasis to modernization to achieve greater efficiency.

New way to get phone number aid

Growth in telephone listings has become a "weighty" problem for Illinois Bell Directory Assistance operators in Belleville who provide telephone numbers for the St. Louis metropolitan area.

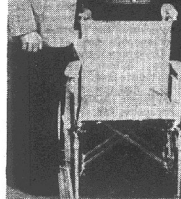

It takes almost 10 pounds of telephone books at every operator position to hold all the telephone numbers for this metropolitan region.

Beginning Monday, March 31, customers who dial 411 to ask for St. Louis numbers will be referred to an operator in St. Louis.

"Dialing the outside area code plus 555-1212 is nothing new," comments Tom Rich, Illinois Bell manager in the Quad-Cities.

"It's the same procedure you already use if you want a telephone number in Columbia or Jefferson City, Mo., or Seattle or Boston—and is just as easy."

Rich pointed out that 555-1212 is the universal long-distance directory assistance number and is toll-free regardless of the area code called.

"Keeping those large numbers of directories on hand, updating them daily and reprinting them twice a month is expensive," Rich said.

"This is one of those rare opportunities to streamline our service and be more economical at the same time."

Aid in obtaining Illinois numbers will still be provided by dialing 411.

Mayors to hear two speakers

Robert Keith, vice-president and planner of Alan M. Voorhees & Associates, and Ben T. Hawickhorst, program manager of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, will be the speakers Wednesday night at a meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors.

The meeting will be held at Tony's Restaurant, Belleville, with a social hour at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m. and the meeting at 8 p.m.

Keith will discuss the re-evaluation of the mass transit plan for the metropolitan region and Hawickhorst will speak on the water needs and problems of the area.

MRS. RUSSEL CHERRY, the former Miss Catherine Ann Hight, who was married on Saturday evening at the Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Thomas Hight of Memphis.

Cherry-Hight wedding ceremony at Memphis

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Catherine Ann Hight and Russel Lee Cherry, taking place Saturday evening at the Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn.

The Rev. Pittman Marbury officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Thomas Hight, 4465 Jamaica Ave., Memphis. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Cherry, 1525 Pontoon Road.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Hight chose a traditional wedding gown fashioned of white peau de soie. The molded bodice was lavishly appliqued with lace motifs, etched with seed pearls and sequins, and featured a scalloped oval neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Her slightly full skirt was accented with a front panel of Alencon lace.

She wore a headpiece created of lace and jewels to secure a veil of bridal illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

Miss Amy Lamb, maid of honor, and Miss Shari Nanney and Miss Paula Hight, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of pink and white flocked knit.

The Empire brides were designed with V-necklines and long sleeves. A matching sash encircled the high rise waistlines and a ruffled flounce bordered the hem of the full length skirts.

Each attendant held long stemmed pink carnations festooned with white bows and streamers.

Terry Ripka of Granite City attended the groom as best man, Mike Sagarantz and Greg Bishop served as groomsmen. Seating the guests were Tommy Hight, a brother of the bride, and Carl King, the bride's uncle.

Both the rehearsal-dinner and a reception, held immediately following the ceremony, were hosted in the church fellowship hall.

Assisting at the reception were Bette Burns of Paris, Tenn., Susan Farrar, Nashville, Tenn., aunts of the bride, Mrs. Betty Bishop, Memphis and Mrs. Barbara Wallace, Shreveport, La.; and Mrs. Wilma Chapman, Des Moines, Iowa, a sister of the groom.

The former Miss Hight is a graduate of Overton High School and currently is a senior student at the University of Tennessee, Martin, Tenn. She has achieved the dean's list.

Her husband was graduated from Granite City High School. He also attends the University of Tennessee and is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and recorded on the dean's list.

The couple will reside in Martin, Tenn.

The matron of honor selected a full length pastel yellow gown. She held a bouquet of red and white carnations with daisies.

The brother of James Garris, Dan R. Garris, 20, of 1741 Poplar St., has been charged with aggravated battery in connection with the Sunday incident. Dan Garris has been released from jail on $5,000 bond.

Police were called to Henson's and Robertson's home and reported finding James Garris inside an auto parked across the street. Officers alleged they found a loaded pistol in the glove compartment and liquor in the auto.

Four bids for installation of a new roof on the Venice School were opened at a regular meeting of the School Board last week, but were referred to the Building Committee without action.

The board also approved a new school calendar for the 1975-76 year and approved appointment of election judges to serve in two polling places in the April 12 school election. The Venice School District will maintain two polling places, one within the city limits of Venice and the other in Eagle Park Acres.

The board authorized its members to attend a legislators' dinner meeting at Springfield, April 9.

The C. J. Schlosser accounting firm of Alton was selected by board members to make the annual school audit. Board members asked that a resolution be prepared congratulating the Venice Red Devils for their achievements in capturing the Class A state basketball championship, for approval in its next meeting.

Authorize Venice park election

A resolution authorizing the April 1 election in which two park commissioners will be elected was approved by the Venice Park Board in a meeting last week.

The resolution also established one precinct polling place at the Park Recreation Building, 321 Broadway, for voting by Park District residents. The boundaries of the district are the same as those of the city.

300 honor Coach Bill Schmitt with 'roast'

More than 300 persons attended a testimonial dinner Thursday night to honor Granite City High School South Wrestling Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt for his 25 successful years as a wrestling coach.

Schmitt's longtime personal friend, Coach Keith Parker of Coolidge Junior High School, commented on the turnout, saying, "A lot more people were going to come because they thought it was a retirement party."

"When they found out it was just to honor you for 25 years, and that you are not retiring, they stayed home and watched 'The Waltons,'" he joked.

Parker's comments were typical of the "roasting" Schmitt received during the evening.

Topics for kidding included Schmitt's "sparkling" personality, his practical jokes, his driving and some unusual wrestling maneuvers he has taught his wrestlers.

Joseph Fedora, director of athletics for Granite City schools, recalled wrestling against one of Schmitt's wrestlers.

Fedora said, "I applied a jawbreaker hold and the opponent bit me! After the match, I asked him why he bit me and the boy replied, 'Coach Schmitt said that's the only counter he knows for that move.'"

Although not all necessarily true, the barbs continued to fly and Schmitt obviously enjoyed his "roasting."

Other friends honoring the coach were: Don Engerton, a former referee; Morris Blitz, superintendent of the Normandy school district and a former referee.

Dick Harmon, GCHS South cross country, tennis and basketball coach; Dale Rice, Schmitt's assistant coach and a former wrestler.

Also, Wayne Williams, assistant football coach at Illinois State University and former head coach of the South Warrior football squad; Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, and GCHS North Coach Walt Whitaker, a former Schmitt assistant.

Schmitt's wife, Helen, received a floral display, presented by Debbie Cavins, a South student.

Alderman Emerald Dawes, president of the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors, presented Schmitt with a ring and Debbie Zedolek of the Red Peppers gave him a scrapbook of newspaper clippings from the past year.

Greg Terrell, representing the South Letterman's Club, gave the coach a small wrapped present and Mayor Schuler of Granite City gave him a key to the city.

Don Mega and Tom Skubish, members of the Bill Schmitt Committee, presented him with a large plaque bearing his photo and with a set of golf clubs.

Schmitt expressed his gratitude for the gifts and for the dinner, saying, "An event like this is the greatest tribute you can give to a man. I know I will never forget it."

"I only wish I had a videotape or film of this so I could play it over and over."

Four competing for GC Park Board post voice approval of most present policies

JACK E. HOOD

Jack E. Hood, 43, of 2209 Madison Ave., is one of four candidates for a vacant position on the Granite City Park Board this spring.

He relates that "my wife is the former Patricia Jean Rappaport. We are both lifetime residents of Granite City and have two boys."

"Jeffrey, 15, who attends South High School, is actively involved as a trainer in high school sports. Jordan is our 11-year-old."

"I am running for election as a park commissioner because I would like to see the fine programs of the park district continued."

"I am a contract agent for the MFA Insurance Co. Prior to going into business for myself as a contract agent, I worked for the park district."

"Over the last eight to ten years, I have been coaching and sponsoring high school basketball league teams."

"I worked as a park guard and ball diamond crew foreman. I also ran the community center in Lincoln Place."

"I have a good working knowledge of the park district and its programs."

"If elected, I would like to see the parks developed more to give the parks a more active plan to help physically handicapped and emotionally disturbed children so that they might participate in some types of sports programs."

"I would also like to see 18-year-olds, young men and women, getting involved in park programs. They will be the parents of tomorrow, and it will be their children using the facilities that mine are using today."

"Two items I would like to stress concerning the park election:

"1. Any 18-year-old boy or girl can vote if he or she lives in the park district boundaries."

"2. You do not have to be registered to participate and vote."

"In conclusion, I urge — let's keep the fine programs the park district now has."

RICHARD C. REINHARDT

Richard C. Reinhardt, D.C., 1811 Venice Ave., seeks election to the Granite City Park Board this year.

He told the Press-Record, "To offer a summary of qualifications for the position on the board of park commissioners, I would have to base it on my past employment with the park district."

"In the 1971 summer season, I began work at the park as a park policeman. In the fall and winter 1971-72 season, I was assistant manager of the park's ice rink."

"In the summer of 1972, I held the position of manager of the swimming pool and programs sponsored by the park district at our pool."

"From the fall of 1972 to the spring of 1973, I was the building supervisor at the Namooki Recreation Center. This position entailed the winter programs of gymnastics, dancing, baton lessons and general recreation supervision for the neighborhood youth."

"There were also pre-school, senior citizens' groups and assemblies that would rent the premises and were booked through our office and then to the recreation center," Reinhardt relates.

"I left the park as a park policeman in the summer of 1973. At this time, I graduated from Logan College of Chiropractic and left the area temporarily to set up a practice in Southern Missouri."

"Family and friends drew us back to the Granite City area and, with the upcoming election for the park board, I felt that this might be a time to return the interest that the park gave me with employment as a student and programs in which I continue to participate," Reinhardt says.

"Between the seasons that I was engaged in specific programs with the park, I worked with the maintenance crews and had the opportunity to deal with the concessions and athletic programs sponsored by the park."

"I had the opportunity to listen to the praise and the ridicule of not only those citizens that use our park and facilities but the constructive criticism of the members of the different departments within the park."

"I hope that all of this will give me an inside track and understanding of this community's park district."

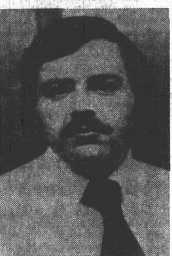

"My wife, Claudine, and I reside here in Granite City and I am presently practicing in St. Charles, Mo. My wife is employed at King and Hoffman Realty, Granite City."

Rites for mother of GC resident

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Christ of King Catholic Church in Nashville, Tenn., for Mrs. Olin Austin, 71, of Nashville, mother of C. T. Beasley of Granite City.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Nashville.

Also surviving are her husband, Walter Austin and a daughter, Mrs. Frank (Helen) Remmough of Winterhaven, Fla.; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

NICHOLAS J. RYAN

A candidate for park commissioner in the Granite City district is Nicholas J. Ryan, 28, of 3240 Rodgers Ave.

He has lived in Granite City for 26 years and was born in Harrisburg, Ill.

Ryan is a partner in the Brothers 2 Sporting Goods store at 1417 Twenty-First St.

He graduated from Granite City High School South in 1965 and spent two years in the Army from May 1966 to May 1968, serving with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment in Vietnam.

A member of American Legion Post 113, Ryan also is a member of the Roca Young Men's Club in the spring of 1968.

An official of the Illinois High School Association in basketball, Ryan is married and the father of one child.

His wife, Maureen, works at Carlene & Helen's Hair Fashion. They have been married for nine years.

Bradley Scott Ryan, six years old, is in the first grade at Frohardt School.

Ryan comments, "I believe that the Granite City park board has done a fine job in adding new and better activities and facilities for both youth and adult programs."

"I have been involved in both the baseball and softball programs for many years and have played in many other communities, but Granite City is the best. We should be very proud of what we have here."

"I believe that the new addition to the West Granite area was a big step in widening the area of facilities for more of us."

"If elected, I plan to work for securing means for lighting the four back-to-back baseball diamonds for uses other than just day baseball."

"I know that these areas could also be used for night soccer, night football and night basketball at the ice rink, and we can use these other activities. I would seek to have the lot refurnished."

"I also would seek means to add more tennis facilities, which we are in dire need of."

"I would like to see in the future a complete recreation center to be built for year-round activities for both youth and adult programs," Ryan concludes.

Mother, children injured on 203

A mother and her three children were injured when their vehicle was involved in a head-on crash on Route 203 at the Illinois Terminal Railroad underpass north of Bend Road last week.

The injured were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where all were released after treatment.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Hartzel, 25, of St. Louis, who was driving one car, suffered injuries to her nose and left knee. Her children, Brad, 10 months old, Lynn Ann, 2½ years, and Todd, 2½ years, all were examined for minor injuries.

The driver of the other car, James E. Rivers, East St. Louis, was brought by Madison County sheriff's deputies to the hospital but declined treatment.

GEORGE H. SYKES

George H. Sykes, 35, of 3524 Johnson Road, one of four candidates for election to the Granite City Park Board on April 15, says he has "entered this election because of my deep personal interest and involvement in the park district."

"It is my feeling that the park and recreational facilities operated by our Granite City Park District are among the finest and most attractive assets our city has to offer."

"As citizens of Granite City, we take a back seat to no other community in the operation of programs and activities for everyone, especially our youngsters," Sykes comments.

"If I am elected, my objective is to see that the outstanding growth of our park district in number of parks, as well as facilities within existing parks, is able to continue."

"This growth, of course, will always be weighed against available revenue sources."

"My occupational experience is in the field of budgeting. I believe strongly that any business must operate within its means, particularly when it is dependent on tax dollars for its base."

"In these difficult times, it becomes paramount that tax dollars be used as judiciously as possible."

"We presently have an excellent value in Granite City when we consider that less than 4 per cent of our real estate taxes are set aside for parks and recreation."

"I feel my background and business experience qualify me to participate in the future of the park district and lend myself to the task at hand," Sykes says.

"In addition to my personal interest in the district, I have also been involved in its programs. For the past four years, I have managed a boys' baseball team on which my eldest son plays."

"I have also served on the Rules and Protest Committee which assists in establishing rules for the program."

"On one other occasion I also managed a boys' baseball team for about five years. I have played softball and basketball in the park district."

"I recognize that these programs are only part of a diversified range of activities; however, they have provided me the opportunity to be in contact with people who are involved in many park functions."

"In summary, I have entered this election because of my pride in the Granite City park district and what it has accomplished; my desire to participate in its continued growth, tempered with fiscal responsibility; and my feeling that my current involvement will help me to understand the problems and needs of others as they arise."

Sykes is a member of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. His wife, the former Carolyn Edwards, their sons, George Jr., 11, and Craig, four, and their daughter, Karen, six months old, are members of Third Baptist Church.

Born in Granite City, he is a lifelong local resident.

He attended public schools in Granite City, graduating from Granite City High School in 1957, and received a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Southern Illinois University at Alton in 1963.

Sykes is presently employed by McDonnell Douglas Corp., St. Louis, as a cost and budget analyst in the Financial Controls Division of the corporate office. He has been with this company for ten years.

He was previously employed as office manager for Keene Pittsburgh-Erie of St. Louis. During his college years, he worked for Granite City Steel and National Food Store.

He served in 1974 as president of the YMCA Soccer Association and is presently serving on the Rules Committee in that organization.

Sykes has managed boys' teams in the Park District baseball program, YMCA Soccer Association and Khouy organization.

Elected to Laclede board

W. S. Anderson Jr. has been elected a director of Laclede Steel Co. effective April 1.

Anderson, vice-president-finance, treasurer and secretary of the steel firm since 1974, succeeds Roland W. Richards.

The announcement was made by Paul B. Akin, president of Laclede Steel Co., which operates a plant in Madison.

Anderson joined Laclede Steel as controller in 1970. He joined Laclede with several years of steel industry experience including controller, Pittsburgh district, Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. and vice president-finance at Taylor Forge.

He is a graduate of Youngstown University and the Wharton Graduate School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania.

He is a member of the Financial Executive Institute, a past international director of the National Association of Accountants and a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

This is it, EASTER WEEK!!! Over the years we have noticed that the three best "Eating Holidays" in order are Christmas, Thanksgiving and Easter. After that the "feasting" falls off considerably. We are starting our Easter Sale today because in past years we have seen a trend to "early Easter Shopping."

Our meat department has now located a new source of veal. Calves have been very scarce for the past year, but we now have a source of quality veal at fairly reasonable prices. Check today's ad.

Today's ad also features some quality Lamb items. We haven't had Lamb in the ad for sometime; in some families it is a traditional Easter menu item.

We have been running some very fine "in store specials." These are great buys that come in at the last minute too late to advertise. For example, last Thursday, a load of very fine potatoes at $3.99 per 100 lb. bag. The customers who bought these really hit a "home run" in the weekly budget game.

transfer their check-cashing privileges from one store to the other.

The closing of the store parallels similar action now being taken by A&P in a number of cities and towns preliminary to stepping up the development of large contemporary supermarkets with broader lines of merchandise and improved services to today's consumers.

Studies indicated it was not economically feasible at this time to rebuild the store at its present location or to develop a new supermarket in the immediate area, Bales added.

Under the circumstances, the company decided it was necessary to close the store and concentrate now on serving area customers at the Madison Ave. A&P, he concluded.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Our Mother of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Maryville. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

"When one man can get up and tie with a tie without even hesitating in judging a man's livelihood, I think it is time to change, and I think as hard as anyone can, township government as I have worked hard for it."

Estes said he believes that when he has federal, county and township employees working under him, he should make at least as much money as they do. "I am not a part-time job commissioner. I am on the job every day, performing my duty."

"You have put me off to the last minute and then changed the meeting date to suit one nation. This is not right," he said.

He concluded, "These past three years have been a terrific headache, even a mental strain, seeing the problems we have and not having the money or the manpower to do anything about it."

"I now have the men and shortly I expect to have the money, and I am going to do it. I am going to move to get out of debt and stay out of debt and still maintain my roads."

The road fund presently has $600 in outstanding late anticipation warrants and officials reported the accounts again are low.

Town Clerk Patricia Polley says Estes must realize that "expenditures must be kept in line with what you have to work with."

She adds she disagrees with Estes assuming the repair bills on the Pontiac Beach street sweeper. It now is being used by the township and the village on an agreement to share the unit.

Town Auditor Cleve Edwell has responded to the Estes letter, saying he felt the commission had taken a lot of the board's comments out of context. He said the letter was "a belittling statement from an elected township official."

Bedwell said Estes "jumped up and left" a previous town board meeting when the board delayed action on the raise request. He said the exit was childish action. Had he stayed, we may have worked something out.

The auditor said the township has "bent over backward" to help Estes, giving all his federal money sharing to the township department to build a town garage and transferring $10,000 to the highway department from general assistance last year when it ran short of money.

A township resident has voiced a complaint to the board that she has been unable to receive help for a road problem near Berthelone. "He hung up on me and he was rude," she alleged.

The salary issue may be discussed further at a public hearing on the highway department's new budget at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the township office at 625 Thorngate Drive. The board has voted to place $9,082 in the general town budget now being prepared to continue to have a town collector. The total is about the same as last year.

Madison still waiting for new school grant

No specific information on the status of a grant sought by the Madison School Board for construction of a new junior high school has been received, Superintendent of Schools John Palchek reported Thursday at a meeting of the Madison School board.

Palchek said that while he was in Springfield last week he met with Paul Woods of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and a representative of the Capital Development Board.

Neither could give him any specific information on the request for funds, he said.

"There are, as near as I can determine, 15 school districts in our part of the state which have applied for funds, Palchek said.

"Several of these are operating as we are on split shifts. I was unable to find out where we stand among the other schools."

The board instructed Raymond Kozielek, school treasurer, and Palchek to advertise with area banks for bids as depositories for school funds which will range from $500,000 to $1.5 million. The bids are due in the board office by May 10.

In personnel action, the board referred to William Kinder, board attorney, a letter from Mrs. Bernice Pitts which said she is unable to return to work; accepted the resignation of James Beattie as basketball coach of the Madison Junior High School team; Beattie will continue teaching and plans to work on a Master's degree; accepted the resignation of Roger Drake as assistant Madison High School basketball coach for personal reasons; accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sandra Hollis as a nurse aide; approved a shift change for Larry Mosby, a school custodian, to allow him to attend a special carpentry course at State Community College.

Protestant Welfare banquet planned

The Protestant Welfare Association discussed final plans at its monthly for its annual banquet which will be held at 6:30 p.m. April 15 at the Koinonia Center.

Members met at St. John United Church of Christ last week. The Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey offered devotions.

It was announced that tickets for the dinner costing $3.35 are available. Reservations must be made no later than April 11. Reports were given by Mrs. Irma Taylor, secretary, and Roy Lynn, treasurer.

The office secretary, Mrs. Marie Whittle, reported 84 persons were assisted during February at a total cost in relief of $445. Additional items taken from the clothing store room amounted to $69.

Closing prayer was given by Ed Stone.

FOUNDERS' DAY for the Knights of Columbus will be celebrated nationally Saturday, March 29. Dr. J. R. Vasiloff, left, grand knight of Council No. 109, Granite City, and Mayor Paul Schuler, a member of the local council, review plans for special observances.

Knights of Columbus Founders Day March 29

"Founder's Day" for the Knights of Columbus has been proclaimed March 29 and will be observed nationally, according to Dr. J. R. Vasiloff, grand knight of Council 1098, Granite City. The first council was chartered March 29, 1882, in Connecticut.

A mass celebrating the founding will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday, April 6, at St. Joseph Church, 201 State St. The mass will be offered by Father Henry Mack, pastor at St. Joseph.

Dr. Vasiloff is encouraging the 385 local K. C. members to attend the mass and communion celebration with their families.

Steve Saltich Sr., chairman of the Founders' Day celebration, announced that there will be a breakfast following the mass at Charlie's Restaurant. Members are asked to make reservations by April 2, he said.

There are presently 1,200,000 members in 5,700 councils located in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Canal Zone, Guam, Guatemala, Virgin Islands and the Philippine Islands.

The membership is dedicated to service to their church, country, community and fellow men, and has made numerous contributions in the fields of religion, social welfare, civic, youth and patriotic endeavors.

Sewer and traffic issues discussed in 2nd Ward

MELVIN HILL

One of two candidates for Second Ward Alderman in Granite City is Melvin "Red" Hill. He is 45 years of age and resides at 2326 Delmar Ave. with his wife, Joan, and three children.

"We are also the parents of three grown sons," Hill reports.

"Curt, 26, the eldest, after serving four years in the U.S. Marines, is a student at the University of Victoria in Victoria, British Columbia.

"Randy, 23, is teaching science in the O'Fallon, Ill., School District Mike, 21, is serving with the U.S. Army in Korea.

"Becky, 17, is a student at Granite City South, Brock, 12, is a student at Emerson grade school and Eric is 18 months old.

"I have been employed by the A. O. Smith Corp. since 1964, in the Assembly Department, with the exception of a leave of absence from 1980 to 1979 to serve as secretary-treasurer of International Brotherhood of Boilermakers Local 575.

"I also served on the board of directors of the Madison County Mental Health Association-Granite City Clinic for three years," Hill notes.

"I was born in Edgemoor, Ill., and attended School District 189. I have a General Education Development certificate.

"The key issue facing Granite City is the orderly growth of our city.

"We must build an access road from the Nameoki shopping area to near Downtown. I believe the Downtown mall would be a tremendous benefit to our city.

"Many of our Downtown businesses are struggling; they need the help of the leadership of our city.

"In the past, we have not had good traffic control.

"Recently, a national corporation wanted to locate a business on Nameoki Road. Their application was denied due to inadequate traffic control, causing a loss of both jobs and revenue to the city.

"I think it is vital that we are ready to receive those businesses which would like to locate in Granite City.

"If we are, the rewards will be great.

"The revenue generated by these businesses—and the jobs they will provide—will lessen the tax burden on the individual citizen," Hill concludes.

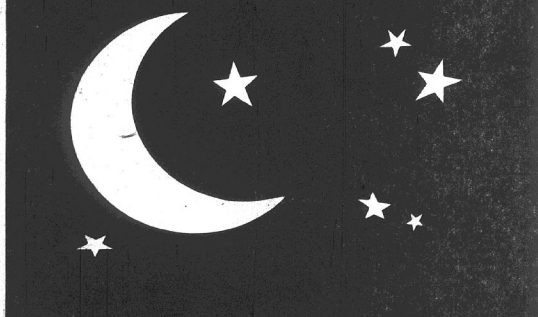

"The revenue generated by these businesses—and the jobs they will provide—will lessen the tax burden on the individual citizen," Hill concludes.

Oppose legal marijuana use

Legislators of the 56th Legislative District, which includes the Quad-Cities, are united in opposition to the adoption of legislation that would legalize the personal use of marijuana as proposed by the Illinois State Bar Association.

The ISBA board of governors, by a vote of 10 to 5, proposed such measures in a meeting at Bloomington, and at the same time approved a legislative proposal that would reduce any sale of marijuana from a misdemeanor with a sliding scale of penalties based on the amount of marijuana involved.

The bar association proposal, also would make it a misdemeanor to be convicted of smoking marijuana in a public place.

State Rep. Joseph Lucco (D-Edwardsville) said he is not yet convinced that smoking marijuana "is just a simple thing."

Lucco said he feels the bar association proposal is in line with drugs should be dealt with firmly.

"Although the case of marijuana users may be a little different situation, I absolutely would not vote for any legislation condoning its use or lightening the present penalties," he said.

State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) cited the need of further research on the use of marijuana and said he would oppose approval of marijuana use "in any way shape or form."

Rep. Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon) said he also would "in no way" support any pro-marijuana legislation.

"I am opposed to the bar association position because there are still so many question marks involving the affects of marijuana," he said.

State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City) was unavailable for comment.

Senior club to mark 10th year Saturday

An open house celebration is planned from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday at the Senior Citizens Club, 1810 State St., to observe the club's tenth anniversary.

John Zabel, president, said all community interests and organizations are invited to attend the celebration and enjoy food and other refreshments starting at noon Saturday.

The occasion also will serve to dedicate a commemorative plaque in tribute to the late Robert McCormick, one of the original founders of the senior club as a United Way agency, Zabel said.

Mr. McCormick, who died last Dec. 18, had retired the previous July from his post as AFL-CIO community services director. As such, he served as liaison agent between community interests and organized labor and was a staff member of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Other officers of the senior group are Sid Magnus, vice-president; Herman Jergens, secretary; and George Woodfill, treasurer.

Easter message at Kiwanis meet

"The Last Seven Days of Christ" was the Easter message given by the Rev. Donald Clark, pastor of the Mount Zion General Baptist Church, who spoke at the Breakfast Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday in Charlie's restaurant.

Joseph Palovchik, president of the Granite City Evening Kiwanis Club, and Michael Tondas, presented the "traveling gospel" to Norman Kinder, breakfast club president. The members of the Breakfast Kiwanis must now deliver it to a meeting of the Wood River club.

Births, marriages in county decline

Births in Madison County during February dropped below the number of those in the same month of the previous year, while the number of deaths declined by only one from the February total. Marriages also declined below the previous year.

A vital statistics report by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles listed a total of 235 births during February—121 boys and 104 girls, including two sets of twins. This compares with 258 births during February 1974—140 boys and 118 girls, with four sets of twins.

The report listed 178 deaths last month, compared to 179 in the same month of the previous year, and 163 marriages, down 26 from the 189 reported in the same month a year ago.

Suggest movie on life of Burt Lancaster be made in Madison

The state of Illinois is attempting to convince major movie studios that a film on the life of actor Burt Lancaster should be made and that the film should be shot in Madison. Lancaster once was a small-time circus and carnival acrobat and performed in Madison in 1940. From the traveling carnival shows, Lancaster went on to stardom and to Academy Award fame. His major films have included the "Birdman of Alcatraz," "Elmer Gantry" and many others.

Lancaster's story is one being promoted by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development's Illinois Film Services division, headed by Richard M. Holtzman, 23, a former advance man for Gov. Dan Walker.

Holtzman recalled the publicity the town of Sparta, Ill., received after Sidney Poitier and Rod Steiger were filmed there in the Academy Award best picture of the year in 1967, "In the Heat of the Night."

He says he wants to change the image Hollywood producers have of Illinois being "just Chicago and one vast field of corn." The image that Chicago officials and persons throughout the state are uncooperative and make it difficult to shoot a film here, also must be changed, he said.

His department is preparing a catalog of state services available to film production companies, Holtzman said. Steve Konkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive, first suggested the Lancaster story to Holtzman, who in turn suggested the movie and a Madison location for shooting, to Universal Studios.

Konkovich also has suggested that a meeting between Lancaster and Dusan Gagich, juvenile officer of the Granite City Police Department, be included in the film.

Gagich was just 14 when Lancaster performed in his home town of Madison. It was his first time to see an entertainer live and he quickly struck up a conversation with one acrobat—Lancaster.

The two struck up a friendship and Gagich also got to know Lancaster's acrobatic partner, Nick Cravat.

When the show left town, Lancaster asked Gagich if he would like to join and travel with them. Gagich recalled running home to ask his father for permission. Permission was denied.

Lancaster and Cravat sent Gagich some photographs from St. Louis which was the last contact between the three.

Gagich will spend the rest of his life wondering what would have happened had his father granted permission that day. He might just be starring in a police movie, some believe.

It also has been suggested that the acquaintance between Lancaster and Granite City Police Juvenile Officer Dusan Gagich be incorporated in the film.

Decatur, Sprankle vying for Fourth Ward position

Warren L. Decatur, 57, of 3229 Colgate Place, one of two aspirants for a four-year term as Fourth Ward alderman, cites three campaign issues:

"1. The solution of drainage problems in 'forgotten' areas of the Fourth Ward is long overdue.

"2. A rapid solution to the railroad crossing problem is necessary now. One death at the Pontoon Road crossing was one too many.

"3. The overpass from Route 151 to Downtown should be top priority on the agenda of the City Council. The best route to benefit all citizens of West Granite should be chosen."

Decatur moved to Granite City in February 1960. He was born and raised in Oak Park, Ill.

He is employed by the Chaney Pence Corp., Florissant, Mo., as manager of the Electrical Division. He was formerly employed by the R. Dron Electrical Co. as an engineer and as a vice-president.

Decatur graduated from the Oak Park and River Forest Township High School in 1935. He was first employed by the Edison General Electric Co.

WARREN L. DECATUR

GLEN SPRANKLE

Inc., in the fall of 1935 as a mail boy.

He attended the Louis Institute night school, studying mathematics and engineering and entered the Illinois Institute of Technology. He graduated in the five-year program and received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

The candidate has attended St. Louis University "to keep up with the ever-changing technology."

He married the former Lorraine Grimm in 1944. They have two children, Mrs. Wendy Kambarian is an English teacher at Granite City High School South. William is attending day classes at Belleville Community College and is working at night.

Decatur comments, "I feel that my many years of training and experience in business and engineering will enable me to study and help solve the many problems facing our city at this time."

"My education and experience have been mainly solving problems, balancing budgets and approaching change in a businesslike manner."

"I think that the time has come that qualified persons should be elected to office as independent candidates."

"I am not being sponsored by any political group and will be free to act and vote on my own belief and conscience for the good of the Fourth Ward citizens, and our entire community."

He continues, "Mrs. Decatur and I are members of the First United Presbyterian Church. We devoted five years as sponsors of the Senior High youth fellowship."

He is a member of the National Electrical Contractors Association and past president of the Illinois Chapter of NECA (1954-1956).

He was a contractor member of Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee for a total of 15 years, six years in Decatur working with Electrical Workers Local 146 and nine years working with apprentices of Local 398 at Collinsville.

Past president of both the Granite City Rotary Club and Tri-City Shrine Club, he is a member of Stephen Decatur Lodge 979, York Rite Bodies in Decatur, Scottish Rite Bodies in Belleville and Almad Temple, East St. Louis.

Decatur is a former member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners of Granite City and of the Electrical Commission of Granite City.

A member of the board of directors of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Decatur is chairman of the Crime Prevention and Control Committee of the Chamber and a member of the chamber's Highway, Traffic and Transportation Committee and Governmental Affairs Committee.

Decatur also is a member of the Traffic Engineers Association of Metropolitan St. Louis and the Engineers Club of St. Louis.

Glen Edward Sprankle, 34, of 1520 Joy Ave., is one of two candidates for the Granite City Fourth Ward aldermanic post from which Claude Green is retiring.

Married to the former Donna Adams, Sprankle has one son, Glen James, six years old. He was born in Granite City and graduated from Granite City High School.

The candidate has been employed by American Steel Foundries as a patternmaker for 15 years.

He is a member of St. Bartholomew's Church, the Patternmakers' Union, the Parent-Teacher Association and associate member of the Knights of Columbus.

Sprankle has been active in the Granite City Park District sports program and is Democratic committeeman for Precinct 20.

"Having been involved in politics for a number of years, I have decided to seek the office of alderman to help better our ward and our city," Sprankle comments.

"Among the issues that I am interested in are expanded bus routes and schedules, in particular taking into consideration our older citizens in both schedules and rates. I further believe that this would help with the revitalization of our Downtown area."

"The overpass from West Granite to the Downtown area should be completed as soon as possible as a sure protection for that railroad crossing and for freer flow of traffic."

"Railroad crossings throughout the area should be studied by the appropriate authorities, and measures taken to be sure they will be safe."

"The sewer problem should be studied thoroughly by experts and their recommendations should be acted upon for a long-term solution; in the short term, the repairs should proceed as quickly as possible."

"I am also in favor of a master traffic plan being studied to alleviate traffic congestion at all major intersections and, in particular, on Nameoki Road. This would include the finishing of Maryville Road, along with other possible solutions."

"I further believe that an all-out effort should be made to attract industry to our city, as we have a skilled labor force, the transportation facilities, the geographic location and other vital resources which are necessary for the successful attraction of a major employer to our area."

"I firmly believe that citizens of all ages should become involved in our politics to better the quality of life for themselves, their families and their community. This is basically the reason I am a candidate for alderman of the Fourth Ward."

Ruling against town supervisors could have big impact

A "bombshell" legal ruling by Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott last week is still sending shock waves around the state and Madison County.

The basic opinion issued by Scott is that in accepting county board election in November 1974, board members forfeited their right to hold such offices as township supervisor.

If upheld, the ruling will directly affect Granite City Supervisor Nelson Hagstauer, Nameeki Supervisor Louis Whitsell and Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks, among many others.

Those elected to present four-year county board terms in November 1972 are not immediately affected. A key date is Sept. 5, 1974, when a new state law expanded the powers of townships.

The legal opinion cites the cumulative effect of developments affecting local-level government since adoption of the 1970 Illinois State Constitution. It also notes "expansion of powers and functions of townships as a separate entity apart from the powers and functions of the county board."

It is said there is an "unavoidable conclusion that the offices of township supervisor and county board member must now be considered incompatible." There is "concern with respect to possible conflict of interest involving the increased power of counties and townships to contract with each other"—overlapping roles that "invite a clash of

Merger of wharf, port facilities can be a boon to area

Many positive ramifications are being predicted for the scheduled transfer of Granite City wharf facilities from the Bi-State Development Agency to the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Established in the early 1950s, Bi-State's river terminal occupies the southern portion of the wide harbor area of the Chain of Rocks Canal, main channel of the Mississippi River. Docking and cargo facilities created later in the northern harbor area are operated by the Port District.

The Bi-State Agency board decided unanimously Thursday to sell its nine-acre site for $730,000, to be financed from future revenue-producing activity at the wharf. The Tri-City Port District in turn com-

I have lost my life's companion
A life linked with my own.
And every day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.
No one knows the silent heart-
ache
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief I bear in silence
For the one I love so well.
I never knew that hearts could ache
With such a bitter pain,
Longing for a vanishing face
To hear his voice again.
I never knew that nights could be
So lonely cold and dim
But I have learned so many things
Because of losing him
If all the world was mine to give
I would give it all and more
To see his face I loved so dear
Come smiling through my door.

Madison police began a safety program and the number of children struck has decreased each year: 1971-72 three, 1972-73 two, 1973-74 one, and so far in the 1974-75 year no elementary school pupil has been hit by an auto. Budget hearings Tuesday

Public hearings on three Quad-City area township road districts' annual budgets will be held tomorrow.

Nameoki Township voters will review a tentative 1975-76 highway department budget totaling $191,300, up $4,600 from last year's budget. The hearing will begin at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Nameoki Town Hall, 4250 Highway 162.

Chouteau Township voters will consider $132,420 budgets which are $33,420 higher than last year's budgets. The primary reason for the increase is a new 16.5 cent tax per $100 assessed valuation which the voters approved at last year's annual meeting.

That tax allows a $47,000 budget for the permanent hard road fund where no such account has existed for several years.

The Chouteau Township general road fund budget was increased from $69,000 in the 1974-75 fiscal year to $70,420 in the proposed new document.

One item expected to be questioned in the general road fund budget is a $1,500 appropriation for equipment shed rental. The township constructed a new garage with federal revenue sharing funds and no rental is required. It is believed the appropriation was carried over accidentally from last year.

The Chouteau Township equipment and building fund budget is $8,000 and the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund budget is $10,000.

The Chouteau Township public hearing on the road and bridge budgets will begin at 7 p.m. tomorrow at 825 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Venice will conduct public hearings on both the regular town budget and the road and bridge budget.

The hearing on the road and bridge fund budget, totaling $35,735, will be held at 7 p.m., and the hearing on the town fund and general assistance budgets, totaling $172,193, will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Both hearings will be held in the township office at 1902 Fifth St., Madison.

Mrs. Sanna Martin dies

Mrs. Sanna E. Martin, 73, of 1707 Madison Ave., Edwardsville, a former Granite City resident, died at 1:15 a.m. Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland.

Mrs. Martin was born in DeSoto, Mo., and resided in Granite City before moving to Edwardsville in 1945. Her husband, Oscar Martin, preceded her in death Feb. 5, 1967. Two sisters and a brother also preceded her in death.

Surviving are two sons, Elbert O. Martin of Belleville, and Stanley R. Martin of Kankakee, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Wanda Sullivan of Edwardsville.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

4 trucks, warehouse entered

Four vehicles parked at Amco Plumbing & Storage, 25th Street and the railroad tracks, were broken into and a warehouse door lock was broken and the door pried open, it was reported at 8:20 a.m. Friday.

The locked truck of Harold Ruse, 2707b Center St., was entered after the right vent window was broken and a $125 calculator was stolen.

A $75 electronic answering device also was destroyed. A large quantity of auto batteries was stolen from the truck and were found elsewhere on the lot. Three trucks belonging to Walt Aerne, 2401 Delmar Ave., were entered. Two speakers were unscrewed from a pickup truck, but were left in a paper bag in the truck. The tool box at the rear of the truck was pried open. It is not known if anything was stolen from the glove compartments or from the warehouse.

Postprints indicate two youths climbed over a six-foot fence near the northeast corner of the lot. The fence is topped with barbed wire.

Glove compartments in two other vehicles were ransacked. It is not known if anything was stolen from the glove compartments or from the warehouse.

RADIO IS STOLEN

A $190 citizens' band radio was stolen from the auto of Ora Strange, Salem, Ill., parked in the 1800 block of Edison Avenue, it was reported at 5 p.m. Saturday.

From past experience we know we'll have to provide more electric energy in the future to supply new homes and apartments, new industries, new jobs, new kinds of machines, new forms of transportation.

We can't take it for granted that the huge supplies of new energy needed for the future will appear overnight as they're needed. New energy resources must be planned, financed and started now. These resources will cost a lot of money.

But the cost of not building them is too great to risk.
